Description

The blank page can be daunting, but 10 Step Drawing: Animals offers an easy jumping-off point for any doodler to be creative.

Featuring illustrated tutorials for drawing 75 adorable (and sometimes grumpy-looking!) creatures – from exotic animals such as a toucan, cheetah and flamingo, to aquatic mammals and fish like the dolphin, penguin and octopus, along with furry friends close to home such as a cat, a dog and a horse – every image is fun and easy to replicate in ten simple steps, using just a pen and paper.

Handy prompts at every stage help the reader without giving them dry, prescriptive instructions, and every animal has its own distinctive character. 10 Step Drawing: Animals is sure to encourage even the most nervous amateur artist to dust off their pen and doodle.

Other titles in the series: 10 Step Drawing: Flowers.

Key Selling Points

- 75 creatures to draw through 10 visual step by steps.
- Variety of animals – from exotic creatures and impressive aquatic mammals to those found in the woods, on the farm and at home.
- Handy prompts at every stage help the reader without overloading them with excessive detail.
- Sure to encourage even the most nervous amateur artist to dust off their pen and doodle.
- Drawing books for children and teens doing well on the market.

About The Author

Heather Kilgour is a London-based illustrator, specialising in children's illustration. Originally from New Zealand, where she qualified in Fine Arts, Heather focused on sculpture for some years, and was one of a select few artists producing sculptures for Lord of the Rings. After a chance meeting with prolific illustrators Freya Blackwood and Virginia Lee, Heather's old passion for drawing rekindled and she decided to move to the UK to study and pursue a career in illustration. Heather has been the Featured Illustrator in Word&Picture online magazine, and is a member of the SCBWI's Illustration Committee.
