Key Selling Points

- This prestigious and informative book follows the success of Trish's previous title, The Kew Book of Embroidered Flowers, created in association with The Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew
- The ultimate guide to embroidering flowers and small creatures including animals and insects, all shown in intricate detail
- The hardback folder featured in this edition keeps the book and reusable iron-on transfer papers safely together; a hardback edition is also available
- Contains all the templates needed at actual size, along with thread conversion guides, to make it simple for the reader to follow
- Also includes a handy guide to creating natural dyes for fabric backgrounds.

Description

This exquisite book, a follow-up to the massively successful Kew Book of Embroidered Flowers, is written by needlework expert Trish Burr in association with The Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew.

It features a starter project that introduces the reader to the most commonly used stitches, including long-and-short stitch, split stitch, satin stitch, bullions and French knots, then nine full sampler projects. The samplers feature a vast array of fauna and flora, including butterflies, bugs, birds, a rabbit and a hedgehog; lotuses, foxgloves, poppies, toadstools, and numerous wildflowers.

The book explains all the stitches needed, and gives thorough advice on preparation and choosing fabrics and threads – including a handy thread conversion chart. All the projects are shown step-by-step, with an order of work diagram given where appropriate. The templates are included at full size.

This stunning yet practical book is a must-have for anyone interested in capturing the intricacy of nature in thread.
