Description

From lazy cats to jumping squirrels, tiny mice to majestic deer, this richly illustrated book offers step-by-step instructions to help you create more than 25 different animals using the unique 'building-up' felting method. Many animals can be made in several stances and sizes to fit different nature scenes. There are tips and instructions at the end of the book for adding finishing touches and caring for your projects after they are completed. Whether individually or in a seasonal tableau, these natural-looking animals will enrich any home or classroom.

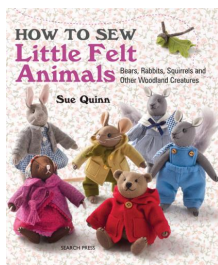

Key Selling Points

- Each project offers in-depth, step-by-step instructions and clear photographs for a comprehensive understanding of how to three-dimensionally felt your chosen animal
- With a little help from an adult, children between 3 and 6 will be able to manage the simple animals, while 6-12 year olds can also attempt more difficult figures
- This book also offers many different versions and positions for some animals so you can make creative and interactive displays

About The Author

Rotraud Reinhard was born in Germany in 1961. She started felting in 1989 and pioneered a technique that makes three-dimensional felting possible. She has published many craft books and now runs workshops in her native Germany.
