Description

We all recognise the importance of getting out into nature for our physical and mental wellbeing and the mindfulness the countryside can provide. Bernard and Barbara, from the eccentric village of Woolly Bush, deep in the English countryside, are here to give you some helpful reflections on outdoor life. Woolly Bush has all the standard features of a typical village – the cake shop, the war memorial, the vegetable show, the vicar – apart from two big differences: it's all made of wool, and none of the characters have clothes on!

With all the usual bare-bottomed fun from nudints, brimming with double entendres and jollity, this outdoorsy set of pictures and comments will have you laughing out loud.

Bursting with British eccentricity and the odd bare bottom, this enchanting book will appeal to humour-lovers and knitting fans alike.
